

RNANT/NU CONTINUING COMPETENCY PROGRAM

Continuous Learning Activities Examples

FORMAL LEARNING ACTIVITIES	INFORMAL LEARNING ACTIVITIES	SELF-STUDY ACTIVITIES
Academic E.g., University programs/courses; post-basic diplomas/courses; Post-graduate certificates; Nursing Specialty Diploma/certificates Specialty Certifications E.g., CNA Certification; Leadership, Wound Care, Risk Management, Diabetes Educator, Lactation Consultant, CASN Educator modules. Conferences/Teleconferences/Webinars E.g., CNPS, CNA, Specialty Areas Employer Continuing Education E.g., Initial employer mandatory certification, employer orientation program Professional Committees E.g., CNA, RNANT/NU, Specialty Areas	Research E.g., Conducting research, participating in research study as a nurse Publishing E.g., Article in peer reviewed journal, RNANT/NU Newsletter Volunteering E.g., Presentations to community groups (seniors centre, schools, daycare, etc.), organizing and participating in health promotion activities Preceptorship and/or Mentorship E.g., Nursing Student, RN, or NP Colleague (new employee orientation), NewGraduate Orientation Unit/Community Based Activities E.g., Nursing rounds, new equipment In-Services, Clinical Skills/Education Days	Examples Reading professional journals or attending webinars on topics such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Best practices: e-therapeutics, new technologies, new patient treatments, medical interventions, patient safety, new models of client care, cultural competence • Changes in practice • Regulation impacting your practice. • Standards/guidelines related to your practice area • Researching a topic to enhance personal and professional performance (e.g.: stress, time management, communication, working with difficult people, professionalism, etc.)

Please note: Employer required mandatory certifications can only be counted the first time you take them or if you are in a new practice area and require initial certification. Re-certification is required for employment and part of the expectation to keep current in your practice and can not be used as learning activities in the CCP. All activities must be related to nursing and fall under the domains of nursing and/or standards of practice. This is not a complete list of all acceptable activities. If an activity is not listed, please contact the Registrar registrar@rnantnu.ca for consultation.